

Uniqueness of Uganda

The Ugandan flag is a colorful flag full of meaning. Black stands for the African heritage and the fertile soil of Uganda. Yellow is for the glorious sunny days. Red stands for the red blood that runs in their veins. The majestic crested crane (not a chicken) is the National Bird of Uganda.

Furlough

We are continually thankful to the Lord for the safety He has given as we continue on our furlough travels. The past few months have taken us from the West Coast to the Midwest with many stops in between. We have seen many accidents and breakdowns along the way, but the Lord has kept us from them so far. Please continue to pray for our safety.

As we report on what God is doing in Uganda, we have received positive feedback. Our supporting churches have expressed their appreciation for the work done and are excited about the souls saved and lives changed. We have been in several new churches. Many have expressed interest in partnering with us. Praise the Lord!

God has given us some great praying and financially supporting churches. We are thankful for each and every one of them.

During this time in the States we would like to raise money for some special projects back in Uganda. Some of the churches need a permanent church building; some need Sunday School classrooms; some need transportation for the pastors and leaders in the church, etc. Please pray that God will provide the needed funds for these projects while we are on furlough.

Back Home in Uganda

The work in Uganda continues to go well. They have had youth conferences, couples conferences and special meetings up in the mountains. We are thankful that the Lord provided the funds so that we were able to buy a piece of land for the church in Ribweryakyona. They are beginning to make bricks for their permanent building.

Family Update

Marcus and Kendra continue to do well settling into life here in America, but both still need prayer as they still find situations, phrases, or adjustments they do not fully understand. Kirsten will soon be leaving us to stay with Kendra for a few months to work a job and save before starting college in the fall. Kimberly will need prayer as she travels with us without any siblings and tries to do her homeschool classes without the benefit of home or a regular schedule.
